

DHC USA adds White Wine Garlic Sauce and Chana Masala to its Fine Foods lineup

Bold, full-bodied flavors meet easy-to-prepare convenience

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., January 1, 2009—

DHC USA Inc., a distinguished provider of high-quality skincare products, makeup, fine foods and supplements, proudly introduces versatile White Wine Garlic Sauce and vegetarian-friendly Chana Masala to its growing Fine Foods offerings. White Wine Garlic Sauce, which includes five delicious recipes, helps enliven your favorite dishes with a mild zing of gourmet flavor. For the distinctive flavors of traditional Indian cooking, Chana Masala offers a tasty combination of wholesome chickpeas and a tangy, satisfying sauce. It also offers heat-and-eat convenience, since it is fully cooked, and can be served alone or over rice.

“We love bringing exotic and distinctive flavors to our customers through convenient, appetizing foods,” says Miles Perdiguerro, Marketing Director at DHC USA, headquartered in San Francisco, California. “Busy cooks appreciate making mealtimes special without spending all day in the kitchen. Our quick-and-easy food products add variety the whole family can enjoy.”

Directions

To prepare White Wine Garlic Sauce, simply combine mix with water and butter (as directed) and bring to a boil in a small saucepan, stirring often. Reduce heat and simmer 3–5 minutes, then serve over pasta or your favorite meats or vegetables.

Chana Masala is fully precooked and can be prepared in minutes either in the microwave or on the stovetop, as directed on its packaging.
