

DHC USA Inc. adds unique green tea products to its fine foods lineup

T-POD™ Green Tea and T-Bar™ Green Tea Nutrition Bar both rich in antioxidants

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., January 8, 2007—

Who says that being health conscious means you must sacrifice great taste? DHC USA Inc., a distinguished provider of high-quality skincare products, makeup, and fine foods, unveils two delicious green tea products—T-POD™ Green Tea and T-Bar™ Green Tea Nutrition Bar. T-POD™ Green Tea is a robust, loose green tea blend that not only has the deliciously distinctive green tea flavor you'd expect, but also contains antioxidants that help fight free radicals to help you maintain better health, both inside and out. Packaged in unique, recyclable plastic “pods,” it is nitrogen-packed to ensure freshness. T-Bar™ Green Tea Nutrition Bar is a tasty snack made with the whole grain goodness of germinated brown rice, buckwheat, oats, and rye, but contains the unique flavor and antioxidant-richness of green tea—making it the perfect snack for anyone seeking nutrition on the go.

Hadrian Miguel, licensed esthetician at DHC USA's headquarters in San Francisco, California, stated, “Green tea is all the rage, and our premium T-POD™ Green Tea not only has a fresh aroma, but is an excellent source of antioxidants to help your body maintain a healthier balance. And it is perfectly complemented by the delicious T-Bar™ Green Tea Nutrition Bar. High in fiber and low in sugar, it makes an ideal in-between-meal snack.”

Directions for T-POD™ Green Tea

Remove the seal of an individual T-POD and pour the green tea leaves into a cup or tea pot. Suggested ratio of water and tea leaves is 3 to 4 cups per T-POD. Fill with boiling water (212°F/100°C). Steep for 20 minutes to achieve an authentic brew and full release of EGCG properties. Enjoy as soon as possible after steeping to avoid excessive EGCG oxidation. Serve hot or over ice. For additional flavoring, add a slice of lemon.
