Whip Cleansing Oil #667

OIL'S WELL THAT CLEANS WELL

Using oil to wash your face might seem a bit, well, counterintuitive but it actually makes a lot of beauty sense. That's because cleansing oils cling to the oil on your face (and to eye makeup) and gently lift it away when rinsed. Those with oily skin shouldn't fear, as these cleansers are developed to remove impurities and rinse away, leaving no residue. And dry-skinned women will love how their skin feels cleansed but never tight. TRY: From left, DHC Whip Cleansing Oil, $15, goes from foam to oil when rubbed onto skin.
