Forever Young!
By Dina Fierro

Your neck, your bust, your hands; what do they have in common? Erogenous zones for sure, but don't forget that each can also reveal telltale signs of aging.

While botox, lasers and topical treatments abound to keep delicate facial skin line free, many women ignore other areas of the body prone to the hands of time. While we're sure that dermatologists and surgeons everywhere are coming up with ways to treat these regions, for the time being give these superficial remedies a go. You'll be surprised by the results that will come from diligent application!

DHC Revitalizing Moisture Strips: Neck $9

For a less expensive but still efficient neck treatment, we love DHC's Revitalizing Moisture Strips for the Neck (<http://dhccare.com/>). Comprised of a soft polymer gel and antioxidant olive leaf extract; calming aloe; and brightening extracts of peony and mulberry, these neck masks infuse the skin with moisture and add vibrancy.
